

Michael D. Soileau
Vice President, Planning and Strategy
Comcast Cable

Working in the telecommunications and entertainment industry for 20 years, Michael currently serves in the role of Vice President of Planning and Strategy for Broadband, Automation and Communications. He is responsible for accessing and leveraging emerging technologies and defining how they might play a role at Comcast, overseeing Comcast's Competitive Planning and Strategy for near and long-term impact, and Business Integration where he defines new revenue streams across Comcast companies.

Previously, Michael served as the Senior Vice President of Customer and Employee Experience, Sales, Marketing, Governmental Affairs and Public relations at Innovative Communications, a multi-service provider of phone, data, video and wireless for the U.S. Virgin Islands, British Virgin Islands and St. Maarten. Prior to that, Michael spent 10 years with Comcast, serving in various leadership roles throughout the company, including sales, marketing, customer experience, and operations.

Michael holds a bachelor's degree in International Business from the University of Texas at Austin and serves on their Center for Global Business Board. He is a Trustee of Community College of Philadelphia, and serves on the Community College Foundation Board, the board of the International Festival of Arts and Ideas, the board of the National Adoption Center, and is a member of Lambda Legal's National Leadership Council.