

Susan Lund

Susan Lund is a partner of McKinsey & Company and a leader of the McKinsey Global Institute where she is an expert on global financial markets, labor, and trade. Her latest research provides new evidence on the retrenchment in global banking and state of financial globalization. She has authored numerous articles in leading business publications, including Harvard Business Review, The Financial Times, The Wall Street Journal, The Washington Post, and Foreign Affairs. Susan is a board member of the National Association of Business Economists and serves on the Economic Advisory Council of the International Financial Corporation. She is a member of the Council on Foreign Relations, the Bretton Woods Committee, and the Conference of Business Economists. She holds a Ph.D. from Stanford University and a B.A. from Northwestern University. She has lived and worked in Africa and Asia and currently resides in Washington, DC.